On Monday, November 18, 2013, Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer and the SEE ART ORLANDO Board of Directors joined the Central Florida community at "Sculpting the Future of Downtown," the official unveiling event of Orlando's permanent, contemporary sculpture collection.

MAYOR HIGHLIGHTS

This weekend, we launched our new CityofOrlando.net website. This new site is your connection to your Orlando. Based on focus groups, surveys and input from area digital professionals, our new site is designed for you. The website provides you with easy access to your City government and is here to serve and support residents, businesses and visitors. The website is simple to navigate and understand, and has updated information on everything from parks and community centers to public safety and permitting. You can access CityofOrlando.net in your space and on your time. The new website is mobile friendly and works on smartphones, tablets, laptops ...

"Orlando is the center of a metro area with 2.2 million residents. Our Downtown is surrounded by eclectic neighborhoods and is alive with cultural and entertainment activities. Our economy is anchored by industries creating the careers of the future in life sciences, digital media and modeling, simulation & training."
